This is the first paragraph with multiple lines of text. It should have proper single-line spacing between lines. The line gap should be at least 12 points to meet requirements. This ensures readability and compliance with document standards.

This is the second paragraph that also follows proper spacing guidelines. Each line within this paragraph maintains consistent spacing. The spacing analyzer should detect this as acceptable single-line spacing.